About

Complete Intelligence™ delivers AI-driven financial planning and forecasting tools for enterprise finance teams and trading desks. Our platforms—AuditFlow™, BudgetFlow™, and CI Markets—give CFOs, controllers, FP&A leaders and traders the visibility and automation they need to shift from reactive operations to strategic finance.

PRODUCTS

AuditFlow™

An AI-powered financial review platform that ingests multi-year income statements, flags anomalies, identifies miscodings, recommends account crosswalks, and guides one-click corrections. Built to compress weeks of cleanup work into hours with full audit traceability.

BudgetFlow™

A forecasting and budgeting platform for FP&A teams. BudgetFlow analyzes historical actuals, generates forecast baselines, flags variance risks, and enables fast, auditable adjustments. Especially suited for healthcare, multi-entity organizations, and shared services environments.

CI Markets / CI Markets Alpha

Market forecasting and planning tool delivering high-frequency forecasts for stocks, futures, currencies, commodities, currencies, and macroeconomic indicators. Designed for portfolio managers, traders, and executives managing input volatility and market timing.

KEY EXECUTIVES

Tony Nash - Founder & CEO

Tony is an economist and technology executive with experience leading global forecasting platforms for The Economist and IHS Markit. He is a regular media contributor on BBC, CNBC, Channel News Asia and others.
